TAYLOR HIGH SCHOOL

HELIO 1969

VOLUME III

Hail to our Taylor Titans,
Hail to our conquering heroes,
Hail, Hail, to Red and Black,
The leaders and best.
Hail to our Taylor Titans,
Hail to our victors valiant,
Hail, Hail, to Red and Black,
The champions of the rest.

Students fill with pride when they hear the notes of the school song. These lyrics were adopted in 1967 by a vote of the student body of Taylor High School. The song was adopted from the University of Wisconsin, whose mascot is also the Titans.

Graduating Class Of Taylor High School

"Yesterday is your memory . . . today is your moment . . . tomorrow is your dream." This is the motto of the first graduating class of Taylor High School.

Yesterday is your memory of laughing in the halls, cheering at the ballgames, and taking the responsibility of the first class to graduate. Yesterday is your memory of setting traditions and paving the road for classes to come. Yes, Yesterday is your memory.

Today is your moment of success, pride, joy, and tears. Today is your moment of graduation and being rewarded a chance for a better education. Today is your moment for graduation tears spilled for friends that are going separate ways. But, today is your moment of pride.

Tomorrow is your dream to follow your heart and find your future happiness. Tomorrow is your dream to chase around the earth or to reach above the stars. Tomorrow is your future, your life, and your dream, all waiting for a touch of love.

Seniors—yesterday is your memory . . . cherish it in your heart. Today is your moment . . . be proud and be humble. Tomorrow is your dream . . . reach out and follow it.

Seniors march into the gym to the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance."

Ruth Eckert in her valedictorian speech said, "It's not who we are, but what we are and how well we live that will determine the reality of America's promise."

Senator Birch Bayh addresses Taylor's first graduating class in commencement exercises.

Graduates receive their diplomas and congratulations from Mr. Manahan, principal.

Senator Bayh paraphrased Edmond Burke by saying "All that is necessary for good to prevail is for enough good men and women to do their something."

Ned Hoover, salutatorian, expresses each senior's sentiments by thanking the faculty, the school board, and parents for their part in making graduation possible.

Taylor's first graduates march on to their future dreams.

Miss Titan

Miss Teresa Campbell, was chosen this year by the entire student body to hold the title of "Miss Titan of 1968-1969". Teresa is an active member of the Taylor High School Choir. She was library assistant, and she completed high school with a major in Home Economics. Also, Teresa was awarded the honor of being "Miss Congeniality" in the Junior Miss Beauty Pageant in Howard County this year. Teresa also writes the column entitled "Titan Tid-bits" in the Howard County News. The students at Taylor would like to wish Teresa the best of luck in her future plans after graduation.

A HELPING HAND

Happiness is . . . a test-tube and a room full of fruit flies to Mr. Windlow, head of the Science Department at Taylor High School.

He was born in Oak Park, Illinois, a suburb of Chicago, where he attended Oak Park High School. He was promoted to Oak Park High School in River Forest, where he participated in many outside activities. Included in these were, membership in the Honor Society, the Sportsmen's Club, and the track team.

Mr. Windlow earned his B.S. Degree in 1950, at the University of Illinois. He then attended Indiana University at Bloomington and received his Master's Degree in 1966.

Mr. Windlow has received many awards in his teaching career. Included in these were three In-Service Grants from the National Service Foundation, to study at Purdue. In 1964 he was given a National Science Foundation Grant to study at Northwestern University, Illinois. In 1968 he was given another grant from the National Science Foundation to study Marine Biology and Oceanography at the University of Rhode Island. He was one of 35 outstanding teachers chosen from the entire United States.

Mr. Windlow met his wife-to-be, Joanne Renaker, in the seventh grade. The fall after graduation from high school, they became engaged and after graduation from college, they were married. They have three lovely children; Jeffrey Scott, who is now 14, Debbie Lee, 13, and Christopher Mark, 10. They also have another addition to their family, Archibald, a black miniature poodle.

Mr. Windlow began his teaching career at Washington School in Grant County, Indiana. Then in 1958 Taylor School opened her doors to Mr. Jesse Windlow for many years of Service. At Taylor, he received an "Outstanding Teacher" award, from the PTO.

Mr. Windlow has been highly recognized for his outstanding work with Taylor Science Fairs. Every year at the Science Fairs, Taylor walks away with the majority of the ribbons, trophies, and awards. Mr. Windlow has built up the Science Department so that it is the best, and it has received commendable recognition. For instance, this year in the Taylor Science Fair, Sandra Jones went on to be a first place winner in the Regional Fair. She and her sponsor, Mr. Windlow, were sent to Fort Worth, Texas, all-expenses paid, to compete in the International Science Fair.

He has been class sponsor for the class of '69 for the past four years. The first class graduating always has to set a good example and pave the way for the classes to come, and Mr. Windlow has made sure that we did. Without the hard work that Mr.

Windlow has put into the senior class, we could not be as proud of our school as we are. He is one in a million, full of energy and encouragement.

Happiness is . . . Mr. Windlow. You may not be a very big man in physical stature, but we think you've done some pretty big things for our school. As graduation nears and passes, many of the Seniors you have taught will remember you as a strong, helping hand, that has helped us achieve many goals. Thank you . . . Mr. Windlow.

Long Awaited Graduation Brings With

Happiness is being a senior . . . especially one of the very first. Being the first class to graduate puts a lot of pride and responsibility upon the seniors.

It is the first class who sets traditions and examples for the other classes to follow. It is the first class who helps to build a name for its school so that the other classes will be proud to uphold it.

The members of the class of '69 have done many things along the course of their high school years as "first class". It was their responsibility to select the style of class rings and sweaters which are now proudly displayed by underclassmen as well as seniors. The class of '69 was also responsible for the designing of the school seal and the selection of graduation robes to be used also as choir robes. Eligible members of this class were also the first to be initiated into Taylor's first National Honor Society and the first to initiate new members.

This year alone the seniors have had a Christmas dance, a graduation dance, and were guests at a Junior-Senior Reception given them by the Juniors. The senior girls also participated in Taylor's first powder puff football game which will probably be a tradition followed in future years. Honors Day program is a precedent that other classes will also follow. This year after the program all the graduating seniors went out to eat. Graduation exercises will also be conducted in a similar manner in years to come as the first class. The seniors this year were proud to have as their commencement speaker the well-known Senator Birch Bayh.

At the close of the year the seniors went on an outing and had a class party. The class also left to the school an American flag in each class room, and a school flag.

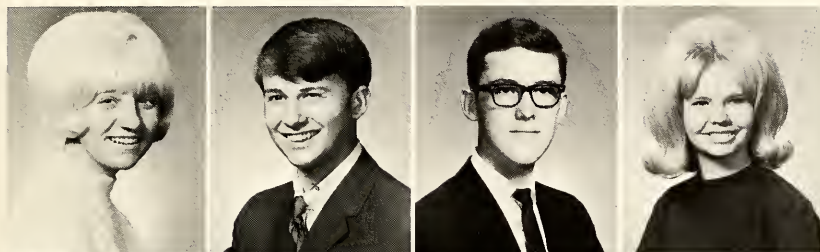

The first class to graduate is a very important class and one that will be remembered. Happiness is belonging to that class.

First Junior-Senior Reception

Happiness is . . . being a junior. All during the basketball season, the Class of '70 worked concessions at home games, sponsored after-game sock hops, and sold magazine subscriptions.

With the money the juniors earned, they sponsored Taylor's first Junior-Senior Reception held at the UAW Hall. A smorgasbord dinner was part of the evening's program at the dance. A lot of juniors and a lot of hard work made the dance a success.

The junior class had the honor of sending three representatives to Boys' and Girls' State. They also were privileged to have fourteen of its members initiated into the National Honor Society.

Happiness is being a junior . . . when you've been as active as the Class of '70. The juniors have had a great year and are looking forward to the promise of a greater senior year.

Freshmen Sponsor Sock Hop, Have Party

Happiness is . . . attending your own class party. This year the freshman class sponsored an after-game sock hop to earn money for a party. The dance and party both were successful.

The class of '72 has also had a very successful academic year. As this is their first year as high school students, the freshman class was eager to work and make a good impression on the older students and the faculty. They have proved to be an exceptional class and Taylor is proud to have them.

Class Of '74 Finally Reaches Junior High

This year the officers and sponsors together helped stimulate these memories by creating a class party that was enjoyed by all that attended. So we at this time want to salute you 7th graders because we look forward to working with you in the years to come.

to build spirit by putting posters up for ball games and making paper buttons for all the students to wear. Under the new sponsorship of Miss Walters, the cheerblock did a great job this year.

Sandra Jones Wins Trip To Texas

Students in advanced biology classes experimented with baby chickens by injecting them with hormones and studying the results.

Sandra Jones, a senior, won top honors at the Lafayette Regional Science Fair. In the senior biological division, Sandy entered her exhibit, "The Effect of Insecticides on Life Cycles and Chromosomes of Drosophila". She won the division over fifty-nine other entries. Sandy then won an all expense paid trip to Forth Worth, Texas with her sponsor, Mr. Windlow. At Forth Worth, she participated in the Twentieth International Science Fair.

First year biology students observe fruit flies under microscopes and later write reports on their observations.

Selected Choir Members

Participate In All-State Choir

Seventeen choir students attended All-State choir making another first for Taylor High School. Students from high school choirs all over Indiana participated. The All-State Choir concert was held at the "Cadle Tabernacle" in Indianapolis. Dr. Charles Hirt of Southern California directed the group.

Mary Garner, a junior, entered the Scholastic Art Award contest at the L. S. Ayres Department Store in Indianapolis. She competed with approximately 20,000 entries, and received an honorable mention. Mary's winning entry of water color paesleys took her about six weeks to complete.

Our band participated in the Annual High School Band Festival at Coney Island. This festival is a reward for the hard work band members give throughout their school year. Our band received a handsome memento and each member received $2.50 worth of free ride tickets.

Parallel parking is the most difficult challenge in drivers education. The students develop their driving skills through driving cars provided for the classes. Changing a tire, studying the parts of a car, and daily assignments are also requirements of the course.

Physical education provides a variety of sports to be enjoyed by the students. Bowling is a new sport enjoyed by the students once a week during their grading period.

Happiness is making practice sets in bookkeeping class. These practice sets are of make believe businesses where various transactions are kept and recorded by the students. The entire bookkeeping cycle is experience in making these practice sets, and the preparation of financial papers which analyze various financial aspects of a business.

Students also learn how to add, subtract, multiply and divide on adding machines in bookkeeping.

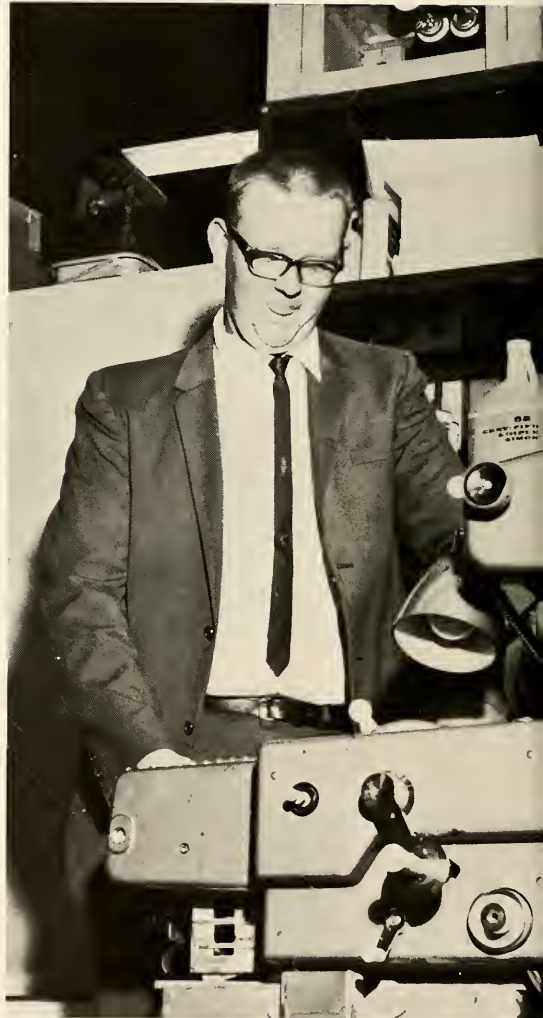

With multiplication, the students learn to determine discounts plus the number of sales and purchases of discounts.

The business law classes viewed a morning session of court room procedure. During this session the students heard three divorce cases. Later, Judge Windslow discussed problems relating to divorce cases and capital punishment with the students.

Graphic Arts Classes Make Paper

In power and transportation class, Jim and Mike learn through working on various parts of a car as well as studying them.

As a student assistant, Dick Blazier printed programs for various activities throughout the school year. Dick was also named an Outstanding Industrial Education Student.

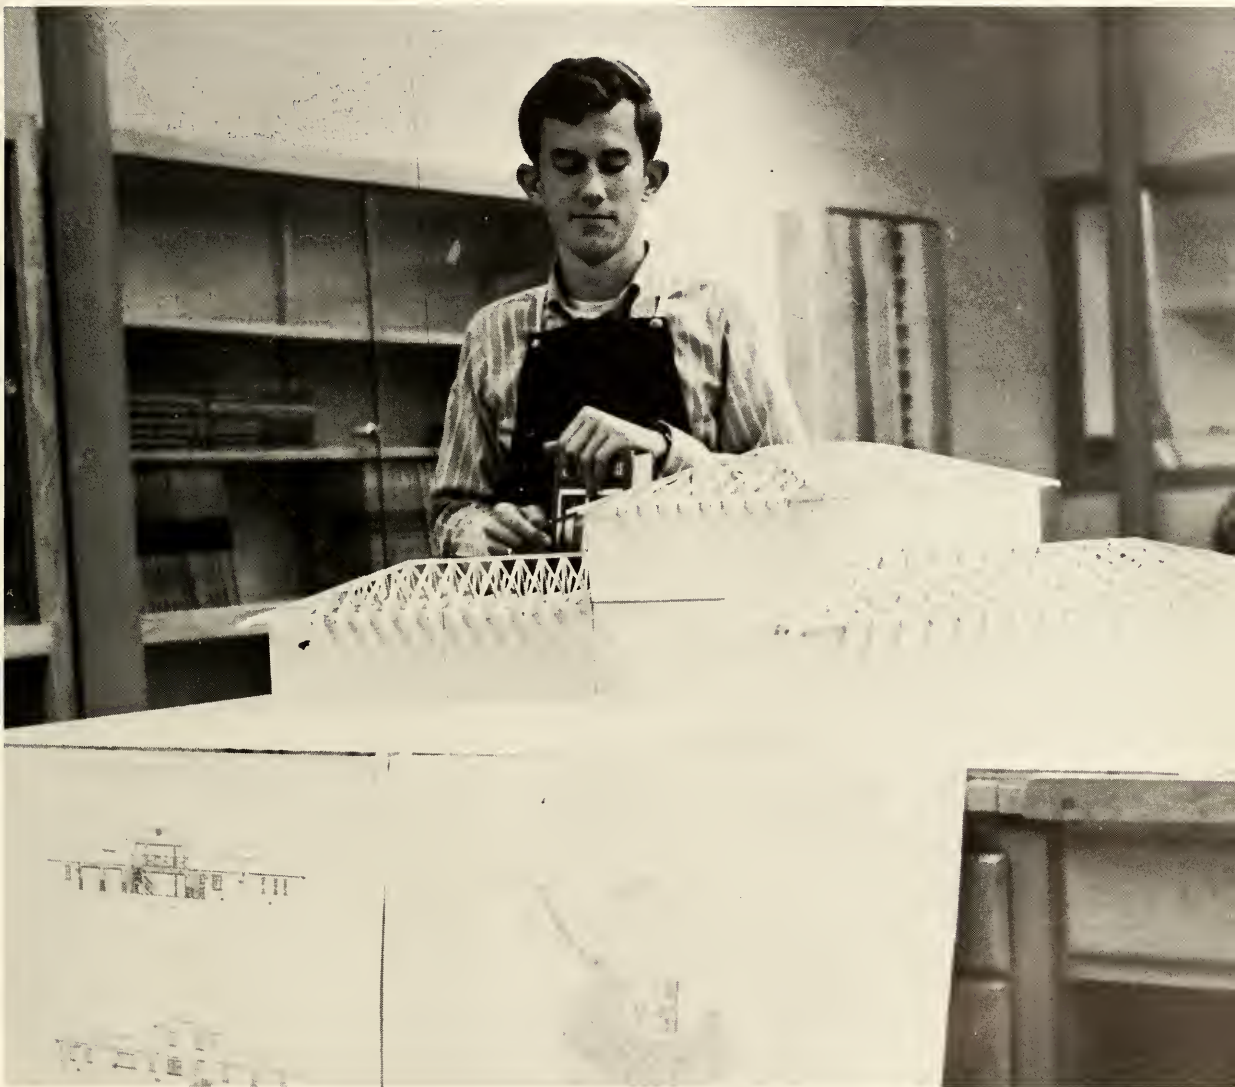

Two Graphic Arts classes made hand-constructed paper for a class project, under the supervision of Mr. Gemmill. A completely hand-made notebook was then kept by each student. In the notebook was a copy of every project assigned during the year.

Graphic Arts is a two semester course in which the students learn the production and quality of paper.

Throughout the year the students also learn about the different types of ink, and the techniques of photography and printing.

This year's Power and Transportation class tore down a 1960 Chevy. After tearing down the car, the chasis and engine were cleaned. Later, the various parts were painted different colors for teaching aid purposes.

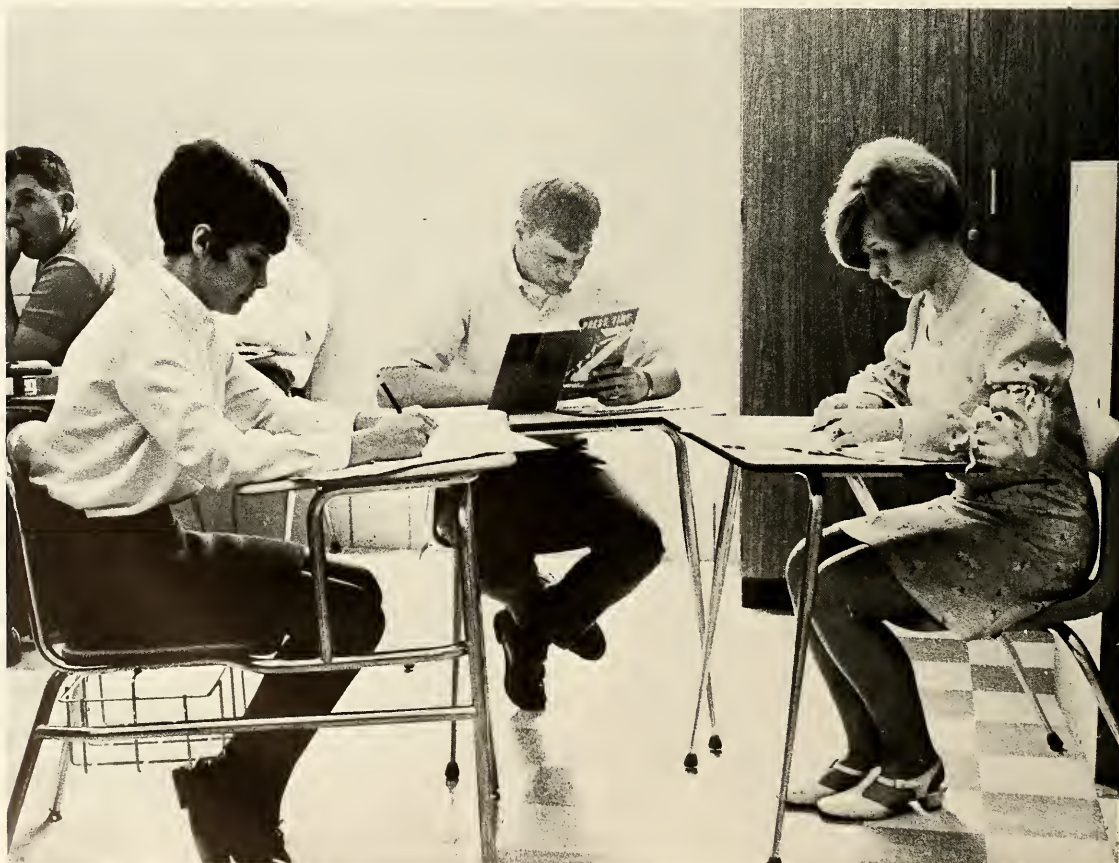

Fred Barber displays a model home which he built for a class project. Fred was also named an Outstanding Industrial Education Student this year.

Eighth grade literature students practice play.

Pam, Dave, and Chris learn to make layouts in journalism.

A new course offered in our curriculum this year was journalism. This course instructed students in journalism and the publication of a newspaper. In journalism a step-by-step approach to newswriting fundamentals is emphasized. There are three stages of learning in journalism: first, a brief explanation of a topic; second, an understanding and retention through immediate directed practice; and finally, application of the learned topic to actual newspaper production. Also the students learned techniques in gathering news, putting stories together and planning editorials.

The Home Economics Department was eligible to elect a student as a correspondent for the CO-ED magazine for the first time this year. Janet Jones, a sophomore, was elected to represent Taylor for the 1968-1969 school year. During the year Janet served as a junior editorial advisor to CO-ED. Through questionnaires she told CO-ED about popular ideas and fads among the girls in our school.

Three senior girls were given awards this year for outstanding achievements in Home Economics. Anita Snipes was given the McCall Award for her work in sewing. The Crisco Award was presented to Kathy Chiles for excellent work in all fields of Home Economics. Martha Cannon won the Betty Crocker Award. Every senior girl who had taken Home Economics sometime during her high school years was eligible for this award. The girls were then given a test which determined the winner.

Purchases New Slide Projector

Happiness is our library, because it serves our teachers, as well as the students, in many ways.

Mrs. Brumbaugh, assisted by her student helpers prepare subject bibliographies for the teachers. These bibliographies include outside reading lists for special units or projects. Extra copies are available to the students. The library also sends newsletters to the teachers informing them of new materials the library has received. Classroom instruction is given by Mrs. Brumbaugh on the use of library tools. For special classroom projects a cart of books is prepared and delivered for the teachers convenience.

The Audio-Visual Department aids teachers by presenting films and preparing classroom displays. Under the direction of Mrs. Brumbaugh and Mr. DeWitt, nine student helpers set up, deliver, and operate equipment, dry mount pictures on poster boards, apply protective coverings on pictures and old newspapers, and make Leroy lettering signs.

Throughout the year, the department has purchased educational slides, records, a tape recorder, and new overhead projectors.

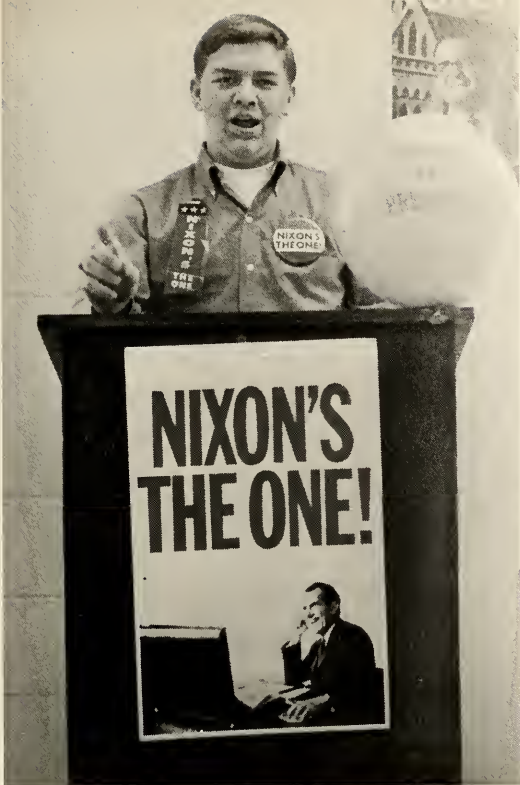

This year a course in government was a new required class for our seniors. In the spring, they visited our State Legislature to observe the actions of our government. They also took a tour of the capital building.

In the United States History classes each student was required to give a campaign speech for the presidential candidate of his choice. After all speeches were given a mock election was held in the U.S. History and government classes.

In the Audio-Visual Department, the dry mount press is used for mounting pictures on poster board.

Cheryl Clarner Ranks First In Mathematics Examination

Each year top math students within our school compete in the Annual High School Mathematics Examination. This contest is sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America, Society Actuaries, Mu Alpha Theta, and the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics. Cheryl Clarner, a junior, won first place. In the competition, Cheryl took tests in all fields of mathematics. Her scores along with the scores of the second and third place winners are sent to a national level of competition. At a later date the top one hundred students in the nation are announced.

Constructing difficult diagrams in analytic geometry becomes a routine for Larry and Dave. After constructing the diagram correctly the problem must be solved.

Cheerleaders Have An Active Year

Varsity Cheerleaders—Sheila Acord, Connie Johnson, Patty Lawless, Jacki Lynn, Diane Garrard.

Happiness is being a cheerleader when you're as happy as the cheerleaders at Taylor. What do they do besides yell? They're plenty busy! Taylor's cheerleaders sold tickets for the athletic club when they raffled off a Dune buggy this year. Not only do they sell tickets, but these peppy girls practice every week, and even through the summer, to cheer our team on. They also attended the Oakhill Clinic where they learned many new yells. It's not all work for them, though. Taylor's cheerleaders attended Smith Waldrige Cheerleading camp where they had a lot of fun right along with learning. At this camp they won five ribbons. One first, two seconds, and two thirds. They were also in a Christmas Parade in which they helped pass out candy. Right here in our own gym the cheerleaders show the experience and learning that they've acquired. But most important, our cheerleaders show real school spirit and an enthusiastic love for our team.

Titan footballers found the going rough in their first year of an all-varsity schedule. A good offense and a good defense are prerequisites for winning and the Titans just couldn't seem to get them both together on the same night.

In spite of everything, the players never appeared beaten because they always kept fighting every second of the game throughout the whole season. This sport is what makes them "Titans".

Unless things take a sharp turn, the Titan baseballers should have another winning season. They made a great showing in the Sectional by defeating Sharpville and Northwestern. Although losing to Haworth in the championship game, they proved to be a tough team to beat.
